embedded award 2023: The winners have been chosen

Successful results for start-ups at the embedded award 2023

On March 14, outstanding innovations in the field of embedded system technologies were honored at embedded world. Three of the eight winners of the embedded award 2023 are start-ups.

The two new categories, Artificial Intelligence and SoC/IP/IC Design complement the established embedded award categories; Hardware, Tools, Software, Embedded Vision, Safety & Security und Start-up for the first time this year.

Remarkable: Of the eight winning companies, three are start-ups. "The fact that in both the categories with the greatest number of entries – namely hardware and software – the two winners were start-ups, demonstrates the high level of innovation with which start-ups enrich the embedded industry," said jury president Prof. Dr.-Ing. Axel Sikora, praising the young companies' performance.
